

Protecting Your Data

Dale Plummer

Department of Biostatistics

16 January 2013

Introduction

In this presentation there are a lot of definitions, examples, and links. Everything can be found in a Biostatistics wiki topic called “Protecting Your Data”.

<http://biostat.mc.vanderbilt.edu/ProtectingYourData>

What kind of information should be protected?

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)

Protected Health Information (PHI)

"personal Information"

Vanderbilt Policies

Information Privacy & Security Website

VUMC Policies Database

Links to Policy

Training

Tools and Practices for Protecting Data

Behavior and Practice

Technology

Be careful

Loss Reporting

Loss notification is required
The VMC Privacy Office
Let someone know

Questions?

biostat-it@list.vanderbilt.edu